DEATH IN THE RING.

A BLOODY PRIZE FIGHT IN ST. LOUIS.

THE LIFE KNOCKED OUT OF JACKSON.

A Mill in a Barroom at Midnight—The Son of a Prominent Citizen Stands Up in Front of a Local Sluggard.

St. Louis, September 17.—A brutal prize fight occurred at the saloon of Dailey Brothers, local bruisers of considerable note, which has resulted in the death of Thomas E. Jackson, aged 18 years. He fought Ed Ahearne, local light-weight champion, eleven bloody rounds, and at the opening of the twelfth, fell fainting in his second arms. The fight throughout was one of the most desperate battles ever witnessed in the ring, science being lost sight of, and "give and take" slugging marking the fight throughout. The first blood was brought by the first round, more of in the second, and by the third half a dozen rounds had been fought the men and their seconds were covered with blood as was the sawdust on the floor of the ring, while the water with which the fighters were sponged was as red as the blood itself.

When Jackson fell unconscious he was carried to a room above Dailey's saloon, and three physicians called in. They worked vigorously, but without avail, and at 1 o'clock this morning Jackson died. He was the son of a well known greenbacker. The affair has created intense excitement, as prominent people will likely become involved. The referee was the sporting editor of a leading morning newspaper.

The spectators were principally of polly alloy sports, who made up a purse of $30, for which the men, or rather boys, contended. Two ounces hard gloves were used. Bob Farrell and Charley Dailey scouted Ahearne, and Steve Burns and Mike Mooney looked after Jackson.

The fight started at midnight, and eleven bloody rounds can be described as wholly without science. The crowd of sports sneaked out and left the battered fighter on Charley Dailey's hands. Dailey, who has fought some well known sluggers, among them Myers, the Steamer, Ill., pugilist, who made a draw with light weight champion McAuliffe, did all he could for the dying boy, but without avail.

THE DEAD GLADIATOR'S BODY now lies in a room over the saloon where he fought, his face unrecognizable, and his mother and two brothers alone with their dead, while Chief of Police Huebner has ordered the arrest of all the parties concerned in the affair. Jackson was well known in fighting circles as "Jack King," and his parents were ignorant of his pugilistic ambition. Ahearne is a gas fitter by occupation and fighter by inclination.

ARRESTING ALL PARTIES CONCERNED. Jackson's dead body was this afternoon taken to the morgue for the coroner. His face is unrecognizable. Detectives were detailed to arrest all, Ahearne, seconds, etc. Ed Ahearne, surviving, was found this afternoon and lodged in jail. He seems to be proud of the game fight he made, but asserts that Jackson must have had heart disease, as he did not hit him hard enough to kill him. Later in the day Dan and Jack Daly, proprietors of the saloon where the fight occurred; Mike Mooney, one of the seconds; Abe Quincey and Stephen A. Mallory, time keepers, were taken to the depot, but will likely be behind the bars by morning.

The prosecuting attorney is of the opinion that murder in the first degree may be shown, with those connected with the fight, as accessories, and their are many reports in the air tonight. Jackson, while fond of tough company, is of good family, his father being a well known business man and bitterly opposed to his son's desire to become a noted athlete.

The dead youth was a member of the Missouri gymnasium, and entered the light weight wrestling tournament there lately, winning the championship medal. This so enraged his father that a quarrel ensued, and the boy left home about a month ago. A coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow.

WOODRUFF CONFESSES

New York, September 17.—In the trial of Henry S. Ives, witness Woodruff was again on the stand today, this time under cross-examination. Between the heat of the courtroom and the fiery ordeal of cross-examination, Woodruff suffered much. Inspiration ran wild in the witness's face in streams, and his immaculate shirt bosom and collar became wilted early in the legal tilt. Today Woodruff felt bad many times upon the "I don't know" principle, but counsel followed him unrelentingly.

While witness was in custody at police headquarters in this city for a period of twenty-five days, he was only a cell twice, and he was not treated like a prisoner. While there he agreed to make a confession. Witness admitted to Mr. Brock that he had perjured himself in the New York trial. Attorney Fellows promptly protested against Lawyer Brooks asking Woodruff if he was led to expect immunity from punishment if he gave evidence against Ives. The witness said that nothing emanated from his office which could give that impression. Brock threatened to put a representative of the district attorney's office on the stand. Witness then committed perjury under Ives's instruction. Woodruff reiterated what he had sworn to about Ives tracing Christopher Myers' initials while holding the paper against a window pane in Stayner's house. The first time this was mentioned was when Woodruff told the story to Assistant District Attorney Parker at police headquarters.

TOO QUICK FOR THEM.

SPARTA, Ill., September 17.—John McCulley, who shot and killed Constable Crossen last Thursday, narrowly escaped lynching last night. The lynching party organized and made preparations to attack the jail, when the sheriff was informed of what was taking place. He secretly took McCulley out of a rear door and boarded a train for Chester. The lynchers heard of the escape just as the Chester train pulled out, and rushed to the depot, but were too late. McCulley will be kept at Chester until his trial takes place.

A SHERIFF WHO WASN'T QUICK ENOUGH.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., September 17.—Deputy Sheriff Tate, upon entering a cell in the county prison at Sydney, Ia., yesterday, was jumped on and nearly pushed to death with a chair leg by a convict named Hayes. Tate, however, secured Tate's revolver and would have shot the officer dead for the intervention of another prisoner. Hayes was in the act of unhooking the prison door and escaping, when the other officers, hearing the noise, rushed upon him and overpowered him. Tate's condition is critical, and should he die, there is such excitement that Hayes may meet death by lynching.

Prisoners Escape Jail.

OPELIKA, Ala., September 17.—[Special.]—There is considerable excitement here tonight. Seven prisoners broke jail about dark. Two were recaptured, but five are still at large. It is cloudy and very dark tonight, and it is hard to trace them. One of the escaped men is Gus Trammell, colored, a United States prisoner, charged with forging a money order on the office here. The sheriff and the police are pursuing them, and are likely to capture them before day.

STOLE UNCLE SAM'S MONEY.

An Ex-Secretary of Montana in Trouble—Arrested and Bailed.

HELENA, Mont., September 17.—William Webb was arrested on a warrant sworn out by United States District Attorney Wood charging him with embezzling the funds of the United States while acting as secretary of the territory. Webb was appointed secretary of Montana in 1885 by President Cleveland and held the office until removed by President Harrison last April. When his successor was appointed it became apparent that there was a shortage in Webb's account, and Special Agent Moody, of the treasury department, was sent out here to investigate the matter. An examination of Webb's book account shows a deficit of over $4,000, and is still in progress. The examination has advanced far enough to warrant Webb's apprehension, and an order for his arrest was received yesterday from United States Attorney Miller. Webb appeared this afternoon before United States Commissioner Connelly, and was placed under $5,000 bond to appear in October next, the bond being promptly furnished.

A CRIME REVEALED

Through a Change in Officers of a Rail Road.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., September 17.—Robert Laughlin, superintendent of the Saginaw, Tuscola and Huron railway, tendered his resignation on Saturday. An informal talk with his probable successor brought prominently forward the name of Charles M. Rice, auditor and general freight and passenger agent of the road, and notwithstanding that it was from an inferior position and in whom unlimited confidence has been placed. Realizing the change contemplated would result in the election of another auditor, and an exposure of his books, Rice confessed to a defalcation of $8,000. Rice gives no explanation of his conduct, only admitting that he needed money and took it, expecting to return it in due season.

For Passing Counterfeit Money.

JACKSON, Miss., September 17.—[Special.]—A very black negro, calling himself J. B. Bryant, was arrested here last night and jailed for passing counterfeit money. He had succeeded in showing upwards of forty dollars of the "queer" in dollar bills, bearing Hancock's picture. Colored shopkeepers were his chief victims, and he was arrested by a white man. When detected and pursued by the police, he made a lively fight, and was shot at the elbow, and notwithstanding that it was a poor imitation, he exclaimed it readily for silver. When detected and pursued by the police, he made a lively fight, and was shot at the elbow, and notwithstanding that it was a poor imitation, he exclaimed it readily for silver.

Two Men Wounded.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., September 17.—[Special.]—At Coalburg, nine miles from this city, this afternoon, C. O. Williams and James Lalla were shot and severely wounded by two unknown negroes. The shooting was entirely unprovoked. Williams was celebrating his birthday, and had invited a number of friends to drink the toast of beer. The drunken negroes came up and asked for beer, which was refused. They turned and walked away a few steps, when they suddenly wheeled and fired at the crowd. Williams was hit through the thigh, and Lalla through the shoulder. The negroes fled, but were pursued with bloodhounds and captured.

Four Jurymen in the Box.

CHICAGO, September 17.—At the time of the adjournment of the court this evening, there were four jurymen in the box against whom no legal disqualification had been discovered, and who had been tendered to the state by the defense. The state attorneys asked the court to consider the capability of these jurors, and it is not improbable that some, or even all, of these four gentlemen may be ultimately accepted and sworn in.

THE BAILEY COTTON.

A New Grade of Cotton Which is Being Watched.

RALEIGH, N. C., September 17.—[Special.]—Cotton planters in this state are watching with particular interest the practical results, on a large scale, of the merits of what is known as the "Bailey" cotton, which takes its name from Hector Bailey, a colored man, who was its discoverer in Harnett county in 1885. The stalk resembles that of ordinary cotton, but is stouter. The leaves differ widely from those usually seen. They are very long and shaped like a hand. The flowers are of large size, and of a pale yellow. The seed is of a large size, and very black, while the staple is nearly as long as that of sea island cotton, and is silky in texture. It was at first thought that this cotton was the result of a crossing of the okra plant with ordinary cotton, but it is now known that this idea was erroneous, and that the discovery is really that of a new variety of upland cotton. Captain Octavius Coke, a well known planter near Raleigh, has several acres of the "Bailey" cotton in growth, which is now maturing. There is an offer of sixteen cents per pound for the cotton, which is all to be specially ginned. The seed will be planted by the Bailey Cotton company, of this city, which sells cotton rights. The plantation of Captain Coke is upland, but a few miles west of here this cotton is being tested on section land. An inspection of the plants shows that they are heavily fruited and have stood remarkably well the trying ordeal of a cold and wet summer.

The Clin-Na-Gael's Money.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 17.—Dr. P. P. Curran, senior partner of one of the largest financial camps of this city, resigned his position last night because the camp refused to concede with his suggestion that a resolution be adopted denouncing General Secretary Lyova for not having turned over to General Treasurer Tierman money received from camps throughout the country since May when the exciting election of the executive board began. In a long interview, tonight, Dr. Curran conveyed the impression, without making the direct charge, that Royane is using these funds in the defense of the Cronin aspects. The funds in question now amount to $200,000.

The West's Demand.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., September 17.—A mass meeting composed of board of trade men and citizens was held at the Pacific house tonight to take action for the purpose of calling a convention of the representatives at St. Joseph to give public expression to the demand of the west to secure the world's fair for one of the western trade centers as against the east. A lengthy resolution was adopted and arrangements made to have their printed and distributed. The call for the convention presents arguments in favor of holding the world's fair at some one of the trade centers west of the Allegheny mountains.

Pardoned by the President.

DEER PARK, Md., September 17.—President Harrison granted a pardon to Edward L. Fontain, of the southern district of Mississippi, sentenced to one year's imprisonment for breaking into the postoffice at Brookhaven. His sentence would expire November 26th, 1889, also to Thomas H. Fontaine, sentenced, April 11th, 1888, to three years' imprisonment for obstructing a deputy United States marshal and deputy United States collector.

Warner May Yet Accept.

DEER PARK, Md., September 17.—It is stated authoritatively tonight that Major Warner has not declined the pension commission. He still has the matter under consideration. Major George S. Merrill, of Massachusetts, is the only other man whom President Harrison is considering.

Harrisonburg Flooded.

HARRISONBURG, Va., September 17.—This place was visited by a cloudburst today, and parts of the town were badly flooded. In Main street boats could have been used for a time. There was much damage from flooded cellars, etc.

Father O'Dwyer's Sentence.

DUBLIN, September 17.—At Farnley today Father O'Dwyer was sentenced to five months' imprisonment and several companions to various terms, for offenses under the crimes act. After sentence was pronounced, the prisoners sang, "God save Ireland."

THE THREE LINKS.

THE SOVEREIGN LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS.

DRILL OF THE PATRIARCH MILITARY.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, September 17.—The sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows resumed its session today. A suggestion to amend the constitution was taken up. The most important matter considered was a proposition to change the age of eligibility to membership from twenty-one to eighteen, which came up in the form of a resolution offered by Judge James McGuire, of California, who made an argument in its favor. Past grand sires Saunders and White opposed the proposition and it was defeated by a vote of 102 for and 69 against. The first of a series of competitive drills for prizes offered to the best drilled battalions, cantons and individual members of Patriarchal Military was held this afternoon on the state fair grounds, before a committee of judges consisting of Adjutant General A. C. Kline, of the Ohio National Guard; Assistant Inspector General Amiel, of the Patriarchal Military; Colonel A. B. Colt, of the Fourteenth Regiment, Ohio National Guard; Major Kellogg, of the Nineteenth Infantry, United States Army; and Brevet Major Ebert, of the Twelfth Infantry, United States Army.

Cantons Occidental No. 1, of Chicago, and Monumental No. 2, of Baltimore, went through the list of maneuvers, and the Montgomery Greys, of Montgomery, Ala., and Wooster City Guards, of Wooster, O., both crack militia organizations, gave exhibition drills. The day closed with a dress parade, in which two competing cantons, two militia companies, and the United States barracks band, of this city, took part. Captain General Frank Ellis, of Troy, O., commanded. The weather has cleared and the breeze is coming into the city. It is estimated that there are now 25,000 strangers here. Grand Sire Underwood gave a reception this evening to visiting representatives.

WHERE ALLIANCE AND WHEEL MET.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., September 17.—[Special.]—Tennessee was the first state in which the State Wheel and Alliance met to take action on the "Meridian Constitution" providing for the consolidation of the two great farmers' organizations. The two bodies met in the state capitol here, and on July 24th, as soon as the preliminaries had been arranged, they ratified the proposition to consolidate, and the alliance adjourned to the hall of the house of representatives, where the wheel awaited them, and of this joint body Mr. J. P. Buchanan, of Rutherford county, who, by the way, was the first president of the state alliance, was elected president.

The constitution of the alliance provided that before it could consolidate with any other body two-thirds of the state alliances should ratify such a proposition. Since the Nashville meeting MORE THAN TWO-THIRDS of the state bodies have met and endorsed the proposition, and the respective presidents will in about two weeks issue a proclamation announcing the coalition. The body will be known as the Farmers' and Laborers' Union and extending over nineteen states, with thirteen state organizations, will have a membership over 3,000,000.

The wheel was first organized in Tennessee in September, 1884, through the efforts of J. R. Miles, C. C. Adams and A. E. Gardner, who have been unceasing in their labors to build up the organization all over the state. It grew rapidly, and in 1886 state organization was perfected, there being at that time about 700 members. Mr. J. R. Miles, of Weakly county, was the first president. The order has grown greatly and now has subordinate organizations in every county in the state except Hamilton and Meigs, and in July last had a membership of nearly 70,000.

The alliance was organized in 1886, and in 1887, having reached a membership of nearly 60,000, state organization was effected and Mr. J. P. Buchanan, of Rutherford county, was elected president. At the time of the consolidation with the wheel it had a membership of about 26,000 so that now the union has 100,000 members in Tennessee.

The alliance and the wheel has always been in Tennessee, their interest being the same. The office of the state buying agent of the wheel was created two years since and Mr. George A. Gowan, of Marshall county, chosen for the position which he has since filled. Mr. Gowan is a native of Morgan county, Ga., and moved to Tennessee twelve years ago. He is not only a first class business man but a practical farmer, and has the interests of the farmers at his heart. He is the right man in the right place. Mr. Gowan's office is located at 112 North Cherry street, and since his election he has not only acted for the wheel but for the alliance as well.

There is no state exchange in Tennessee yet, but at a national meeting which will be held in St. Louis, December 6th, plans will be formulated and published looking towards it, as great benefits in the sale of the farmers' produce in new devices controlled by the buying agency. Among the men to whose untiring labor is due the admirable organization in Tennessee are J. R. Miles, J. P. Buchanan, J. H. McDowell, E. N. Nolan, C. C. Adams, J. H. McLeister, L. L. Pope and A. E. Gardner. These men worked as a unit with but one object in view—the organization of the farmers into a body for the protection of their interests. In an interview with Mr. Gowan your correspondent learned much of interest, not only to the farmer but to the general public.

Mr. Gowan first endeavored to impress the fact that the farmers are not fighting the merchants, wholesale or retail. While their organization has in view the saving of the enormous profits that in some cases go to the middlemen, the great object is self protection. They are opposed to trusts, but cherish no enmity against the dealers who handle the articles in new devices controlled by the trusts. Wholesale and retailers are a necessity, and in many cases—sugar, for instance—sell on the smallest possible margin.

Mr. Gowan said the organization was not intended to be political and never would meddle in politics. Its members, however, were always urged—democrats and republicans alike—to attend the conventions and polls and by their individual efforts see that the best men in either party were nominated for office and elected, so that the farmer's interests should be better looked after in the future than they had been in the past. There were a number of wheelers in the last legislature, but they had not been elected by the undivided vote of their wheel.

Mr. Gowan said that by the establishment of the buying agency over $25,000 has been saved to the farmers. Tennessee has been alone in the last two years. A plot that the formerly cost $10 was now delivered to the purchaser at $7.50, freight paid and the agent's

5 per cent deducted. A wheat fan formerly costing $30 is now sold for $17.75. Fully $20 is saved on THE AVERAGE.

Many Nashville merchants have called on Mr. Gowan and left their business cards, voluntarily. These Mr. Gowan handed to purchasers and wherever possible a reduction is made on any purchase. This can be afforded because of the concentration of trade. Concerning the substitute for jute bagging Mr. Gowan made a most interesting statement. He said: "There are twelve manufacturers of jute bagging in this city, each bagging a low grade of cotton. These have orders placed, with the money guaranteed, by various state agents, for more bagging than they can turn out by running night and day before November 15th."

"Not only this, but we have written agreements with underwriters that they will insure cotton covered with this bagging at a less rate than charged in the case of jute bagging, because the cotton is less inflammable than jute."

"THE JUTE BAGGING trust cut its own throat by putting up the price so greatly in one year. A gradual increase would have caused such a furore."

In many of the small places in the state individual merchants have solicited the wheel trade in dry goods and sundries by offering 10 per cent profit, and this has caused other merchants to lower their prices so that a great benefit has been derived even where it comes to small purchases.

A SHOCKING ASSERTION.

An English Electrician Does Not Believe Newspaper Stories About Fatalities.

LONDON, September 17.—In a discussion before the British association on the subject of electricity, W. H. Preece, chief electrician of the postoffice department, said that the act recently passed by the New York legislature providing for the execution of condemned murderers by electricity would have to be rescinded. He claimed that it was impossible to get a current of sufficient intensity to kill a man with certainty, and experimented with an enormous current, and had tried with a spark twenty inches long to kill a pig but could not. He knew of several instances of persons killed by shocks from electric wires had, upon investigation, been found to be nonsense.

Segator Blair to the Colored People.

BOSTON, Mass., September 17.—United States Senator Henry B. Blair, of New Hampshire, addressed the colored people of Boston at the First African church this evening. The church was crowded and each seat was given a certificate of admission to the colored voters of Massachusetts to the interest of Lieutenant Governor Brackett for governor. Senator Blair was very warmly received. He explained his provisions and urged the colored people of the north to use their influence for his passage.

Boulanger's Final Manifesto.

PARIS, September 17.—M. Constans, minister of interior, in an electoral address declares that real Boulangerists are merely jugglers trusting to the confusion and disorder of elections to fish in troubled waters. Mr. Ferry says that a revision of the constitution means civil war. Boulanger has issued a violent manifesto. His lists show 1,800 candidates for 500 arrondissements. They will entail numerous ballots.

The Chief Fell Asleep.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., September 17.—William Watkins, chief of police of Parsons, a mining town, three miles from here, while on watch duty last night, fell asleep, and a bale of wool on the edge of a platform of the Delaware and Hudson railroad depot at that place with his head leaning forward, resting upon his hands. The engineer of a fast freight train failed to observe the sleeping officer, and he was struck by the train and instantly killed.

A Colored Man's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, September 17.—Secretary Windom today appointed Robert H. Terrell, of Massachusetts, chief of the navy pay division of the fourth auditor's office, vice Marshall A. Hall, resigned. Terrell is a colored man. He is a graduate of Harvard university, and is at present engaged as a teacher in the colored normal school of Washington.

New Jersey Republicans.

TRENTON, N. J., September 17.—The republicans met here this afternoon and nominated General F. Burd Grubb for governor on the second ballot. The platform contains a declaration in favor of the Australian or any other system of voting. The greater part of the document is devoted to denunciation of democratic maladministration of state affairs.

Under the Slate.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., September 17.—Two men were killed instantly and five others perhaps fatally injured this afternoon by falling into the furnaces of the Euclid Iron company, eight miles from this city. The men were at work in a slope when a great mass of slate fell in on them. The accident was discovered on Friday night, and the bodies of the men in the slope went to work to rescue the men under the slate. Five of them were gotten out alive, but badly injured. The names of the killed and injured have not been learned.

Brooklyn Jockey Club.

NEW YORK, September 17.—The autumn meeting of the Brooklyn Jockey club, on their Gravesend track, was begun today. The weather was in damp and showery, and the track heavy. The attendance was, nevertheless, large and the racing excellent. The finish for the original handicap was a superb one, heads separating the first four. Today's races show that the meeting bids fair to be a grand success and to eclipse all other meetings of the season. Dwyer brothers have promised to give purses aggregating $100,000. Some of the cracks of the season are now quartered at the course.

First race, sweepstakes for all ages, five furlongs, Voltaire, handily by two lengths, Fordham second, Madison third. Time 1:32 1/2. Second race, handicap, all sires, mile and a furlong, Redway won, J. L. B. second, Joe Lee third. Time 1:54 1/2. CALLING CHEROKEES.

AND SECURING THEM ADMISSION TO THE NATION.

WHERE THERE IS LAND PROVIDED.

Mr. A. E. Ivey, of the Cherokee nation, is in Atlanta in the interest of those who are eligible to admission in the Cherokee reservation.

Mr. Ivey is a roundly built man, with black hair and eyes and a rich olive complexion that evidently belongs to what is generally termed a half breed. He is a journalist of high standing, and his home is Tahlequah, the capital of the territory. Mr. Ivey is a nephew of General Standwater, of the confederate army, who was the only full blooded Indian that ever rose to that rank in any army.

Mr. Ivey is accompanied by Mr. W. A. Thompson, of Tahlequah, and his operations are being carried on in Georgia and Tennessee, where there are a great many half breeds who are entitled to admission into the nation. His business is to find out such of them as are desirous of aligning themselves with the Cherokees and take the necessary legal steps to secure their admission.

"In order to gain admission every applicant must go through a process of law and technical examination," said Mr. Ivey when questioned.

"The lineage of each applicant is investigated minutely, and if his pedigree shows he has a drop of Cherokee blood in his veins, a certificate of admission is granted without further ceremony. It is easy to establish this among the better class of applicants as they recall with much pride the name of the brave to whom they owe their existence."

"What is the object behind this move?" "We want them to go to the nation simply because such an untamed freedom waits them. We hold by virtue of the treaty with the government 6,022,000 acres of the richest land in the world. It covers an area of 300 miles long and 55 miles wide. Our nation is now about 25,000 strong; the Creeks have about 15,000, Seminoles 25,000, Choctaws 7,000, and our own tribe owns and principally constitutes the Indian territory. We are a prosperous people out there."

"Our legislature has passed a law to entitle all persons of Cherokee ancestry to all the rights and privileges of the native Cherokees who were born and raised there. We come to Georgia to deliver their certificates to them, and a number have already agreed to move to the territory this fall. We have just completed a female school building at Tahlequah at a cost over $100,000."

"HOW ARE THEY ADMITTED?" "These people that are to come in are conditioned, of course, that they be regularly admitted to the nation and they can only do so if they can explain and show that they are of pure Cherokee blood, and that they are beginning work on the 325,000 school lands which were set aside for them. There are fourteen other negro schoolhouses in the nation."

"We have a good country out there," said he, "the southern portion is the cotton belt, and a bale to the acre is the average yield, while I have seen a bale and a quarter picked. In the northern part of the territory corn and wheat are principally grown."

"How about the government?" "Our government is perfectly harmonious and systematic; our people happy and contented. The lands are held in common, we prefer it that way. A commission sent by the United States government has offered us $125 per acre for our land, but we want $3 if we can get it. The old Indians would not have any proposition if they were not afraid the government would take the lands from them in the event they failed to come to terms. They are close to the land, and they would approve of the move, but the south knows little of the hardships the western people are trying to put on us."

Messrs. Ivey and Thompson will spend about two months in Chattanooga, Dalton and Atlanta looking up those who have Cherokee blood in their veins. In a few weeks about twenty-five families from Georgia and Tennessee will leave for the nation.

Mr. Ivey showed several certificates of admission to the Cherokee country, and among them were two or three Atlantians. On the expected and the prospects are good for the council of the Cherokee Nation. Approved December 8, 1886, September 6, 1890. Oquadan."

THE GEN. PASS. AGTS.

MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION IN ATLANTA YESTERDAY.

Sixty-five thousand miles of railroad were represented in the ball room of the Kimball house yesterday.

The semi-annual meeting of the National Passenger Agents' association was being held. Seventy-five gentlemen were present and they represented the brains, the enterprise and the energy of the railroad world.

Eleven o'clock was the hour appointed for the meeting. An hour previous the passenger agents began to congregate in the halls of the hotel. Some of them met each other for the first time in months, and as every new face appeared there was a hearty welcome. Almost all the gentlemen seemed to be well acquainted and very few seemed to be known except by their first names.

At eleven o'clock all the members moved into the ball room and the meeting was called to order. The rules of the association require that when the president and vice president are absent the ranking members of the executive committee should take the chair. A survey of the house showed that W. L. Danley, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road, was the proper man to preside. As soon as he took the chair Mr. A. J. Smith, secretary of the association, read the roll call and the following gentlemen answered to their names:

THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT.
J. D. Ackley, Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West road; Alton Angier, Western and Atlantic; D. C. Allen, South Carolina; Joseph M. Brown, Western and Atlantic; F. Chandler, Washburn and Western; E. T. Charlton, Central Railroad and Banking company of Georgia; A. E. Clark, Pittsburg and Lake Erie; Charles H. Cronwell, Western of Alabama and Atlanta and West Point; W. L. Danley, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis; T. M. Emmons, Atlantic Coast Line; R. B. Foss, Orange Belt; F. G. Jewett, Chattanooga Lake railway; A. O. MacDonell, Florida Railway and Navigation company; Wilbur McCoy, South Florida; A. W. Moore, Houstonian system; W. E. Peppers, Columbus and Cincinnati Midland; A. T. Smith, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern; James L. Taylor, Richmond and Danville; W. A. Thall, Chicago and Northwestern; H. V. Tompkins, Baltimore Steam Packet company; J. H. Wrenn, Cumberland route; E. P. Wilson, Chicago and Northwestern; and Mr. Robert Gillette, Mexican Central. There were also a number of gentlemen representing absent members. The names of the following gentlemen were favorably reported on and they were unanimously admitted to the association: H. K. Preston, Chesapeake and Nashville; S. H. Hardwick, Georgia Pacific; C. C. Knapp, Georgia Southern and Florida; W. M. Davidson, Savannah, Florida and Western; E. McSweeney, Charleston and Savannah; P. Tenbrook, eastern agent Union Pacific.

BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.
After these routine proceedings, the question of where the next annual convention shall be held was proposed. Many delegates had cities to propose. It was, however, decided that the meeting should take place the second Tuesday in March, 1890, in the city of Mexico.

It was announced by the doorkeeper that a delegation of citizens wished to communicate with the convention. After permission had been given Messrs. P. Walsh, E. P. Howell, J. W. Canell and Jacob Phinizy were admitted. They represented the city of Augusta, and requested the convention to adopt resolutions requesting the Southern Passenger Association to arrange tourist rates for the city of Augusta. They stated that their object was to make Augusta a winter resort.

After the committee withdrew the convention adopted the resolution as requested.

COMMITTEES REPORT.
A committee appointed at the last meeting to report on a proposition to adopt an arbitrary number for each road in the association printed so as to be readily distinguished on the face and back of coupons in future issues of tickets, reported against the proposition and it was lost.

Other committees reported that they had not been able to investigate questions referred to them and asked for extensions of time which was granted. Further time was also granted the committee who will report on the law that after the first of July next the corpses of human beings shall not be received, ticketed or checked by the several railroads in the different associations on routes where any regular express company is performing transportation service.

It was decided by the convention that the next excursion were injurious to business and should in future be abandoned. It was also decided that all agents in creating taken to bench shows should have a special rate made for them.

EMMONS BLAINE AN HONORARY MEMBER.
Mr. E. P. Wilson, of the Chicago and Northwestern road, proposed that Emmons Blaine should be made an honorary member of the association because he was connected with railroads. The proposition was seconded and passed. Mr. W. P. Hutt, petitioned for divorce from Thomas J. Lovett, for desertion.

Two bills for divorce were filed yesterday—Lila Herbert, on the ground of adultery and desertion, asked a total separation from J. William Herbert, and S. E. Hutt, petitioned for divorce from Thomas J. Lovett, for desertion.

The number of cases sent up to the supreme court has been larger this term than for several years past. Up to date thirty-nine cases have been transmitted, and yet there are more to be disposed of.

The case of M. A. Sullivan against the Chattanooga River company was continued before Judge Van Epps yesterday. This trial has been in progress since Friday morning last, and will probably occupy the greater part of today. Both sides are represented by prominent legal talent. Dean & Smith, of Rome, and Callahan, King & Spaulding, represent the plaintiff, while Judge Lio Kins for the defendant and Co. and Dean for the plaintiff will continue today. The suit is brought to recover for failure to keep a contract in laying tracks on the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus road, and delay in executing parts of it, the damage amounting in all to about $7,000.

Pimples, boils and other humors are liable to appear when the blood gets heated. To cure the make Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A prominent gentleman, one of the banks on Alabama street, remarks: "The best smoke I ever had was that furnished by the Climax cigarettes." You can get them here. They are for sale by the trade generally. Ten in a package for 10 cents.

AT AN INCIDENT.
And the Facts Connected With It—How is It With You?

This is an age of progress, when the man or woman struggling for prominence or to acquire a competency, must lay aside the traditions of the past and leave the well worn paths of generations gone before. On every hand we see the successful, the men who have taken this as their motto. But to attain this we must use sound judgment, and to do that it is absolutely necessary to have an active mind in a healthy body.

Not more than one-half of the present generation are free from disease, and a very large percentage are afflicted with some disease of the rectum, (piles, fistula, hemorrhoids, etc.) and still fail to apply for treatment, because some "medical men" who should have lived two centuries ago, has told them they cannot be cured. Science laughs at the idea, and progress gives us the means of curing all these troubles without pain and without inconvenience. It is your business you were to find a leak that was bringing you to financial bankruptcy, how quickly you would endeavor to stop it; but you neglect a disease that will certainly bring you to physical bankruptcy, destroy your hopes for the future, and make you a burden to yourself and your friends. Can you afford to do this, when I place within your reach a safe, easy and effective way of curing your troubles? Taking progress as my motto, I have laid aside all the ancient, painful and unsatisfactory means formerly employed and treat all cases by a radical treatment appropriate to each case, thereby restoring you to health and happiness. Devoting my entire time to treating this class of diseases, I ask your consideration of my claims to your attention, promising you a cure if you are still within the reach of medicine. For full particulars, consult or write me, and I will take great pleasure in giving you any information you may wish.

city until every tree stood out plain and distinct. The clouds above were crimsoned and the spectators two miles away could see each other's faces at several yards distance. As the brilliant light subsided rocket after rocket shot up into the air and then burst, filling the atmosphere for acres with brilliant colored stars. The finale was the grandest sight of all. Three hundred cornucopia rockets were set off together. As they ascended to a height of two thousand feet they formed myriads of rainbows, and when they burst it seemed as though the heavens were turned into a brilliant flower garden.

BACK TO MARIETTA.
As soon as the exhibition of fireworks was over the guests of the Western and Atlantic "boarded the car again and returned to Marietta. At Mr. Joseph M. Brown's house a delightful reception was held until ten o'clock. When the railroad managers were leaving they collected in front of Mr. Brown's house and gave him three rousing cheers. Alton Angier's name was then called and the way the railroad men gave the "rah! rah! rah!" and a tiger proved their college days were still remembered.

On the way home expressions of pleasure and thanks to their entertainers could be heard. All agreeing that they had spent a delightful afternoon and evening. The association resumes its work today.

CONLEY MAHER.

What Was in Dr. Fox's Resolution That Was Objected To.

The veterans have not yet done discussing the Conley-Maher affair. The effect of the association's action was plainly evident at Monday night's meeting, when several members expressed themselves on the matter.

"Doctor, what was your resolution that created the stir last night?"

"It wasn't exactly a resolution—only a little statement written and handed to the secretary to be read, because, you know, I can't talk very well when I get excited. I only said that at a previous meeting I had offered a resolution requesting Captain John L. Conley to tender his resignation, which was laid on the table. On my recommendation Mike Maher was admitted a member of the association. That he was a deserter no one can deny. You took him in and whitewashed him and allowed him to resign. I asked that the resolution be taken from the table, so that I could withdraw it."

"And the objection was to you asserting that Mr. Maher was a deserter?"

"Yes, because I said he had been 'whitewashed.'"

AN OFF NIGHT.

Though It Was Quite Large.

The Zouave fair was not so well attended last night as usual on account of the disagreeable weather. The contests, however, were all carried on successfully, and the social features were very much enjoyed.

During the evening, Mrs. Belle C. Dykeman and Mr. Cliff Mason, by request, sang several beautiful selections. There are not two better voices in the city, and their singing was greatly enjoyed.

Little Miss Julia Manning, who is contesting for a pair of diamond earrings with Miss Anna Mose, is attracting a great many quarters in her little bank, as also is Miss Mose.

The first sergeant contest is not lagging, and every evening the visitors rally to the support of their favorites.

Tonight is set apart for the veterans, and a special programme has been arranged for them. Among the features will be a squad and company drill by the Zouaves in full uniforms.

BE GETS HIS CONVICT LABORERS.

Georgia has an interest in Tennessee's convict lease.

When the lease was let in Nashville, some days ago, an Atlanta man was on hand with the requisite certified check for $10,000 to take a hand in the bidding. That man was Colonel J. W. Renfro, Atlanta's ex-postmaster, who has gone into the business on a large scale. He is president of the Cumberland Coal Mining company in Morgan county, Tennessee, and it was to obtain convict labor for his mines that Colonel Renfro was after the lease.

When the present lessee—the Tennessee Coal and Iron company—learned that Colonel Renfro was on hand to bid for the lease of the convicts, their representative went to him and made an agreement by which he was to have all the convicts he wanted for his mines. The lease was then let to the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, Colonel Renfro not bidding.

The Cumberland Coal Mining company owns some valuable mining property and Colonel Renfro now expects to devote his time to its development.

He will continue to make Atlanta his home, however.

IN THE COURTS.

Mrs. Mary Hodges was granted a verdict in the superior court yesterday. The suit was against Olmstead and others, administrators, and the verdict was allowed by the defense, for all that was claimed without argument.

No other cases were tried before Judge Clarke.

Two bills for divorce were filed yesterday—Lila Herbert, on the ground of adultery and desertion, asked a total separation from J. William Herbert, and S. E. Hutt, petitioned for divorce from Thomas J. Lovett, for desertion.

The number of cases sent up to the supreme court has been larger this term than for several years past. Up to date thirty-nine cases have been transmitted, and yet there are more to be disposed of.

IN AND ABOUT ATLANTA.

WHAT THE CONSTITUTION REPORTERS FOUND OUT.

The Grand Jury Still on the East Point Whipping—The Virginians Organize—The Central Railroad Accident.

The grand jury was in session again yesterday, and the East Point whipping was once more discussed.

But no true bills were found.

The body convened in the grand jury room about ten o'clock, and after discussing the question a half hour or more sent a bailiff out with a pocket full of subpoenas. In a short time the subpoenaed parties began to come in, and among them was the father of one of the young men who is supposed to have skipped out. He was given a seat in the grand jury room and asked where his son could be found. The witness, so it is claimed, denied all knowledge of his son's complicity in the affair which is now agitating the public, and asserted that he had not seen his son in several days. Investigation did not last over ten minutes, but it was thorough.

By those who are best posted it is understood that no true bills have yet been found.

His Remains at Home.

The remains of John Jordan, the engineer of the freight train which was thrown from the track near Hancock night before last, were taken to Macon yesterday some time. A telegram from Macon last night says:

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock and the lodge of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will attend in a body.

ATLANTA CITY BREWING CO.

BREWERS OF

THE FINEST BEER!

On and after January 1, 1889, the Atlanta City Brewing Company takes charge of their bottling department, heretofore managed by the Southern Bottling Company, Aug. Flesh, proprietor. We beg leave to inform the public that with increased facilities, we are prepared to supply the demand for the justly celebrated lager beer brewed by our company from the best Canadian malt, choice Bohemian, Bavarian and California hops, free to all for inspection at our brewery, corner Harris street and Courtland avenue.

We Solicit the Patronage of the Trade

THROUGHOUT THE SOUTH

TO TRY SELF BE TRUE.

Then Canst thou Man Say Thou Has Been False to Any One?—A Paraphrase Question Involved in This Article that All of Atlanta's Best Citizens Should be Cognizant Of.

There has been a great deal said and written recently about flour. Gentle reader do not lose sight of the old saying, "The proof of the pudding is in the chewing the rag."

Now, we are representative merchants, and reliance can be placed on what we say. We tell you openly, without fear of contradiction, or that our statement can be refuted or contradicted by facts, that Hoyt & Thorne's Royal Flour is the purest, best, and most reliable for bread and pastry purposes in the city. We are not afraid of a test, a trial, a competitive test, any kind of test, at home or the exposition, or anywhere.

Now, for your own satisfaction, buy five pounds of any of the said best flour in the city, bake them side by side, whichever of the four brands you like best, sweetest, lightest loaf of bread, to it belongs the title of best—and our test, but least in the highest sense. Try it my friend—try it and like the competitive display of "Best Loaf of Bread" at the last exposition, in which, without our knowledge, a lady baked with our flour and won the handsome $7.50 range offered by Walter Wadsworth for the best loaf of bread, in the face of the fact that every flour in Atlanta was represented by an expert in the culinary line, Hoyt & Thorne's Royal Flour was the best, won the range, and can do again: so do not be misled but try for yourselves. If your Royal is not what it is represented, we will refund your money.

Our fresh, white and crisp Saratoga chips have arrived. Our Boston Butter Biscuits have arrived—best for oysters. Our 6 and 8 pound Dove Hams have also arrived, as well as some uncut and breakfast loaves. We have also that wonderful Elastic Starch. Have you ever examined its qualities, merits, etc.? Our Pure Yeast Maple Syrup has also come at last. It is the best of its kind. Come and see it. We have a bargain in Higgins soap. Our new Uniflor, and our new Uniflor soap, has again arrived. My friend, if you desire something strictly first-class in groceries, you are now put upon notice where to buy. Our goods are sold at a low price. Our Ice Cream still flows. We have just received fresh packages of cracked wheat, rolled oats, and oat meal and all cereals.

On the 15th, we fire from the top of Kennesaw mountain the grand aerial pyrotechnical display, given complimentary by Mr. Joseph M. Brown, to the general passenger and ticket agents of the United States, here in convention on that day. We tell you it will be finer than any kind of kind. Nola Bena.

LAGRANGE FEMALE COLLEGE

Will Resume Exercises on September 18th—

A Bright Future.

The forty-third session will begin September 18th with the largest attendance the college has had since the war. Within the past four years this institution has nearly doubled its attendance, modernized its music class. Within the past two years it has doubled the number of its pianos and music rooms; but the increasing number of students have necessitated the addition of four more music rooms. These will be ready in a few days, and then there will begin such a sound of pianos as has never been heard before on College Hill. Professor Heller B. Smith will return Wednesday with a large delegation from Texas. The friends of the college are jubilant over its bright future.

BEST REASONS WHY

The Southern Mutual Building and Loan Association, of Atlanta, Furnishes a Safe and Profitable Investment.

1. It is a recognized fact by persons who have given the matter a thorough investigation that no other form of savings yield as profitable a return as a well managed and successful building and loan association.

2. A loan is loaned at a uniform rate of premium and interest; therefore the investor can calculate accurately the rate of interest he will receive.

3. A new series of stock is issued every month, thereby bringing in new members and borrowers. It can loan its money anywhere in the south.

4. It is the largest building and loan company of its kind in the south, and loan money at six per cent.

5. It does not require building and loan association, but it does require a banking business. All money is loaned the first of each month, to stockholders by way of interest, thereby insuring to investors the safety security offered.

6. The officers are well known in business and financial circles. James W. Keene, president; A. J. Atwater, vice-president; William C. Hale, secretary; R. F. Farrer, treasurer; L. J. Lakin, manager of agencies; Ellis & Gray, attorneys; J. C. Gray, printer.

Authorized capital, $5,000,000; over $1,000,000 stock taken to date.

J. O. Gibson, Meidian, Miss., writes: "For a number of years of suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise it has made me a well and healthy man."

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."

Benl Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. My throat was ulcerated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore and cured me completely within two months." Lwk

I HAVE USED B. B. for debility resulting from chills and fever and have found it to be the best tonic and aperient I ever took. It also prevented the return of the chills.
